

OFFICE OF THE VICE PRESIDENT
WASHINGTON

June 15, 1966

Dear Jack:

The Vice President desires that I convey to you his gratitude for his copy of the article, Nuclear Weapons, a Costly Business.

I hope you have been told how important your contribution was to the recent discussion on this subject. If you have, you will know how much the Vice President appreciates the work of you and your staff.

Best wishes.

Sincerely,

George J. Carroll

Mr. R. J. Smith
Deputy Director for Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Langley, Virginia
